

DJ VOX

Live Vocalist & Performance Curator

Jamal “DJ Vox” Bonaparte is a DJ and live vocalist known for creating music-driven experiences that balance atmosphere, energy, and presence. Blending refined DJ sets with live vocals, his performances are intentionally paced to elevate a room rather than overpower it.

With over a decade in entertainment and hospitality, DJ Vox has performed across private clubs, destination weddings, curated venues, and international events worldwide. His approach adapts to the space, the audience, and the moment—never delivering a replicated set, but a performance shaped specifically for each event.

From luxury receptions to lounge-forward environments, DJ Vox moves seamlessly across genres while maintaining a cohesive musical narrative. Whether setting the tone for cocktail hour or commanding the dance floor, his performances are built on restraint, timing, and intention.

Select appearances and performances include events in Madrid, Ireland, Canada, the Cayman Islands, Hawaii, Colombia, and Morocco. Artist collaborations and shared stages include Nile Rodgers, Brian McKnight, Sheila E., Macy Gray, and Chic.
